The Bright Side of Social Media: Connection, Learning, and Opportunity

Social media platforms, such as Instagram, TikTok, and Facebook, often face criticism, especially regarding their impact on young people's mental health. However, it's important to acknowledge the many positive aspects these platforms bring to our lives.

One of the most significant benefits is enhanced global connectivity. Social media breaks down geographical barriers, allowing young people to stay in touch with friends and family who live far away. For students, this connectivity is invaluable. It helps them build support networks with peers who share similar interests or struggles, creating a sense of belonging that can be crucial during challenging times.

Furthermore, these platforms have become powerful tools for education and skill development. Many educational institutions, experts, and content creators share free tutorials, lectures, and resources. Users can follow diverse accounts focused on science, history, or practical skills like cooking or coding. This access to a vast, constantly updated library of information makes learning more accessible and engaging.

Finally, social media offers unparalleled opportunities for personal growth and activism. It allows young individuals to find their voice, raise awareness about important social and environmental issues, and mobilize support for causes they care about. These platforms empower them to transform passive interest into meaningful action. While balancing online and offline life remains a challenge, the strategic use of social media undoubtedly enriches the lives of young users.

66. What is the main idea of the text?

- A. Social media is primarily used for communication and entertainment.
- B. Social media platforms must be regulated due to their negative effects.
- C. Despite frequent criticism, social media provides valuable benefits in connectivity, education, and activism.

67. Which of the following is NOT recognized as a positive aspect of social media in the text?

- A. Helping students to build strong support networks.
- B. Offering access to free educational content and skill development.
- C. Encouraging personal growth and political mobilization.
- D. Replacing traditional, face-to-face communication entirely.

68. What is a suggested solution or counter-argument to the problem of "FOMO" (Fear of Missing Out)?

- A. The text does not mention FOMO directly, but focuses on the challenge of balancing online and offline life.
- B. The text suggests that users should spend more time online to avoid feeling excluded.
- C. The text recommends deleting social media accounts completely.
- D. The text suggests parents should monitor their children's accounts 24/7.

69. From the context of the introduction, the word "criticism" most likely means:

- A. Favourable comments about something.
- B. The act of expressing disapproval or negative judgement.
- C. Detailed analysis of a text or film.
- D. A technical review of a platform's functionality.

70. According to the author, what is the greatest challenge for young users today?

- A. Finding educational content online.
- B. Mobilizing support for social causes.
- C. Balancing their time spent online and offline.
- D. Staying in touch with friends and family.
